

“Economic Cooperation and Legal Systems” Project
LIST OF PUBLICATIONS

Economic Cooperation Series (in Japanese)

- No.196 Naoyuki Sakumoto (ed.), Law and Development: Economic and Social Development in Asian Countries, 2002
- No.198 Masayuki Kobayashi & Shinya Imaizumi (eds.), Judicial Reform in Asia, 2002
- No.200 Masayuki Kobayashi & Shinya Imaizumi (eds.), Dispute Settlement System in Asia, 2003
- No.202 Naoyuki Sakumoto & Shinya Imaizumi (eds.), Democratization Process and Law in Asia: Philippines, Thailand and Indonesia, 2003

IDE Asian Law Series (in English)

(2001)

- No. 1 Institute of Developing Economies (IDE-JETRO), Proceedings of the Roundtable Meeting “Law, Development and Socio-Economic Changes in Asia”
- No. 2 Institute of Law, Chinese Academy of Social Sciences, China’s Judicial System and its Reform
- No. 3 Indian Law Institute, Judicial System and Reforms in Asian Countries: The Case of India
- No. 4 Sharifah Suhana Syed Ahmad & Roy Rajasingham, The Malaysian Legal System, Legal Practice & Legal Education
- No. 5 Raul C. Pangalangan (ed.), The Philippine Judicial System
- No. 6 Central Intellectual Property and International Trade Court (Thailand), The Judicial System in Thailand: An Outlook for a New Century
- No. 7 Institute of State and Law (Vietnam), Legal and Judicial Reforms in Vietnam
- No. 8 Achmad Ali, Law and Development in Changing Indonesia
- No. 9 Myrna S. Feliciano, Pacifico A. Agabin, Merlin M. Magallona & Carmelo V. Sison, Modernization of Laws in the Philippines
- No.10 Sunaryati Hartono, Setiawan & Taryana Sunandar, The Indonesian Law on Contracts

(2002)

- No.11 Institute of Developing Economies (IDE-JETRO), Proceedings of the Roundtable Meeting "Law, Development and Socio-Economic Changes in Asia II"
- No.12 Sunaryati Hartono, Astrid S. Susanto & RM Surachman, Political Change and Legal Reform towards Democracy and Supremacy of Law in Indonesia
- No.13 Raul C. Pangalangan (ed.), Law and Newly Restored Democracies: The Philippine Experience in Restoring Political Participation and Accountability
- No.14 Faculty of Law, Thammasat University, New Legal Frameworks towards Political and Institutional Reform under the New Constitution of Thailand
- No.15 Institute of Law, Chinese Academy of Social Sciences, Dispute Resolution Process in China
- No.16 Indian Law Institute, Dispute Resolution Process in India
- No.17 Sharifah Suhana Syed Ahmad & Mary George, Dispute Resolution Process in Malaysia
- No.18 Domingo P. Disini, Jr., Elizabeth Aguilin-Pangalangan, Rowena E.V. Daroy-Morales, Dante B. Gatmaytan & Concepcion Lim-Jardeleza, Dispute Resolution Mechanism in the Philippines
- No.19 Central Intellectual Property and International Trade Court (Thailand), Alternative Dispute Resolution in Thailand
- No.20 Institute of State and Law, National Centre for Social Sciences and Humanities (Vietnam), Alternative Dispute Resolution in Vietnam

(2003)

- No.21 Hikmahanto Juwana, Dispute Resolution Process in Indonesia
- No.22 Wang Zhenqi, Wang Changshuo & Zheng Shangyuan, Labour Disputes Settlement System in China: Past and Perspective
- No.23 Institute of Developing Economies (IDE-JETRO), Doing Legal Research in Asian Countries
- No.24 Jau-Yuan Hwang, Fort Fu-Te Liao & Wen-Chen Chang, Development of Constitutional Law and Human Rights in Taiwan Facing the New Century

List of Authors

SAKUMOTO Naoyuki is a Senior Research Fellow at the Institute of Developing Economies (IDE-JETRO), Chiba, Japan. His study focuses on Asian environmental law and constitutional law. He is a board member of the Japan Association for Environmental Law and Policy and the Japan Center for Human Environmental Problems. His latest publications include Environmental Law and Policy in Asia: Issues of Enforcement (IDE, 1997), "Law and Development: Asian Environmental Law" and "Rule of Law in Indonesia" (IDE-JETRO, 2002), and "Decentralization and the Law in Indonesia" (IDE-JETRO, 2003).

YASUDA Nobuyuki is a Professor, Graduate School of International Development, Nagoya University, Japan. His research focuses on Law and Development Problems of Asian countries and Comparative Asian Legal Cultures. His publication includes Ajia no ho to shakai (Law and Society in Asia), Sanseido (1987), Tonan ajia ho (An Introduction to Southeast Asian Law), Nihon hyoronsha (2000), and "Law and Development in Southeast Asian Perspective: Methodology, History and Paradigm Change," Antons Christoph (ed.), Law and Development in East and South-east Asian Countries, Routledge-Curzon (2002).

AGO Shin-ichi is a Professor at Kyushu University, Faculty of Law, Fukuoka, Japan. His current research focuses on the interaction of economic development and social development. His publications include: "A Crossroad of International Protection of Human Rights and International Trade: Is the Social Clause a Relevant Concept?" in Droit et Justice, Melanges en l'honneur de Nicolas Valticos (Rene-Jean Dupuy & L.A. Sicilianos eds.), Paris: Pedone, 1999.

MATSUMOTO Tsuneo is a Professor of private law at Hitotsubashi University Graduate School of Law, Tokyo, Japan. His major areas of concern are consumer law and computer law. He has been advising various ministries and agencies in Japan on consumer issues. He is a board member of the International Association for Consumer Law, and in February 2000, he was a visiting professor at Washburn University School of Law and NOVA Southeastern University School of Law in the U.S. and held the seminar on comparative product liability. His latest English publication includes “Privatization of Consumer Law: Current Developments and Features of Consumer Law in Japan at the Turn of the Century,” 30 Hitotsubashi Journal of Law and Politics 1 (2002).

KOBAYASHI Masayuki is an Associate Senior Research Fellow at the Institute of Developing Economies (IDE-JETRO), Japan. He specializes in Chinese legal studies. He was Visiting Scholar at the Institute of Law, Chinese Academy of Social Sciences in 1993–95. His recent research focuses on settlement of labor disputes in China. His publications include: Dispute Settlement System in Asia (Editor with S. Imaizumi) (IDE-JETRO, 2003) and Judicial Reform in Asia (Editor with S. Imaizumi) (IDE-JETRO, 2002).

Raul C. PANGALANGAN is Dean and a Professor of Law at the University of the Philippines, where he teaches Constitutional Law, Public International Law and Jurisprudence. He received his LL.M. and S.J.D. at the Harvard Law School, where he won the Laylin Prize for best paper in public international law and the Charles Sumner Prize for best dissertation on international peace. He was Visiting Professor at Harvard Law School in 1998. He holds the Diploma from The Hague Academy of International Law, where he served as Director of Studies in 2000. His latest publications are “Territorial Sovereignty: Command, Title and the Expanding Claims of the Commons,” in Boundaries and Justice: Diverse Ethical Perspectives (David Miller and Sohail H. Hashmi, eds.) (Princeton University Press, 2001) and “Sweatshops and International Labor Standards: Globalizing Markets, Localizing Norm,” in Globalization and Human Rights (A. Brysk, ed.) (University of California Press, 2002).

Surinder Kaur VERMA is the Director of Indian Law Institute and a Professor of Law, University of Delhi, India. She received her LL.M. from Berkeley, University of California, USA and S.J.D. from the Harvard Law School, USA. She was a visiting Professor at the Law School, University of Washington in 2001 and a Fellow at the Max-Planck-Institut für Patentrecht, Munich, Germany in 1994 and 1997. She taught at the University of Zambia, Lusaka from 1982–1985. Her research focuses mainly on Intellectual Property and International Trade Law on which she has written extensively in national and international Journals. Her research publications include: An Introduction to Public International Law (Prentice Hall 1998); Fifty Years of the Supreme Court of India (Oxford University Press 2000); Rights of Persons with Disabilities (ILI, 2002); Legal Framework of Health-care in India (Butterworths, 2002). She has been the member of many Committees constituted by the Government of India to legislate Intellectual Property Laws. She is currently the President of International Association for the Advancement of Teaching and Research in Intellectual Property (ATRIP).

Sharifah Suhana Ahmad is an Associate Professor of Law at the Faculty of Law, University of Malaya, Malaysia. Her latest publications include Malaysian Legal System (Malayan Law Journal, 1999). Her area of specialty include Employment Law, Industrial Law and Contract Law.

IMAIZUMI Shinya is a researcher at the Institute of Developing Economies (IDE-JETRO). A graduate from Graduate School of Law, Waseda University (LL.M.), specializing in Public Law. His research interest is legal system of Southeast Asian countries, especially Thailand. His publications include: Dispute Settlement System in Asia (Editor with M. Kobayashi) (IDE-JETRO, 2003) and Judicial Reform in Asia (Editor with M. Kobayashi) (IDE-JETRO, 2002).

XIN Chunying is a Professor of Law, Deputy Director for the Institute of Law, Chinese Academy of Social Sciences. She is a well-known law scholar in the field of Constitutional law, legal theory and human rights. She concentrated on legal and judicial reform in China as main interests since 1990's, with publications such as Chinese Legal System and its current reforms; Political Reform and Legal Construction in China; English and Chinese Lexicon on Women and Law; Women and Human Rights, etc., and many papers notably "Global Association Revolution and the Law governing Civil Society," "Globalization and Chinese Women's Human Rights," "Seeking a Balance between Democracy and Constitutionalism," "What Kind of Judiciary is needed in China for the 21st Century," etc. She is now the leading person for a research project entitled "Judicial reform in China."

LIU Junhai is a Professor & Assistant Director for the Institute of Law, Chinese Academy of Social Sciences; Member of Beijing Arbitration Commission; Member of the board of directors, China Consumers' Association (CCA); Deputy Secretary-General, China Business Law Society; Post Doctoral program at Oslo University (1996–1997); Visiting scholar at the University of Michigan (2000–2001). His research interests focus on business law. His representative works include: Protection of Shareholders' Rights (The Press of Law, Beijing, 1997); Corporate Social Responsibility (The Press of Law, Beijing, 1999); Legal Reforms in China, ZEF-Discussion Papers on Development Policy No.13, Center for Development Research (ZEF), Bonn, September 1999; "Corporate Governance in China: Then and Now," Co-author, Columbia Business Law Review, Volume 2002, Number 1.

DAO Tri Uc is Professor, LL.D., Director of the Institute of State and Law of Vietnam; Dean of the School of Law, Hanoi Orient University and Professor (part-time) at the Hanoi National Academy of Politics. His research focuses on sociology of politics and law, and the rule of law in Vietnam. He has published more than 200 books and articles on institutional and legal development. He leads several national and international research projects on political and judicial reform.

SUGIURA Kazutaka is a Professor of Russian Law at the Nagoya University Graduate School of Law and Director of the Center for Asian Legal Exchange, Nagoya University, Nagoya, Japan. His recent research focuses on judicial reforms, human rights and constitutionality review in Russia. His latest publications include “Reform of the Russian Bar System and Future of the Draft of the New Lawyers Law,” in Trend of judicial reform in Russia, the Japan Institute of International Affairs (2002) (in Japanese), “On Judicial Reform in the Central Asian Countries and the Problems: For Uzbekistan and Kazakhstan,” in Comparative Law Journal, No.63 (2002) (in Japanese).

YAMADA Miwa is a researcher at the Institute of Developing Economies. A graduate from Georgetown University Law Center (LL.M.) and University of London (LL.M), her research interest is law and development in Asian countries. Her writing includes “One Observation of the Logic of Legal Technical Assistance: The World Bank and Japanese Official Development Assistance” in Law and Development: Economic and Social Development in Asian Countries [in Japanese], IDE-JETRO, 2002; “A Perspective on Comparative Study of Dispute Settlement Institutions and Socioeconomic Development” in Proceedings of the Roundtable Meeting on Law, Development and Socio-Economic Changes in Asia, IDE Asian Law Series No.11, IDE-JETRO, 2002.

Vichai ARIYANUNTAKA, is a Judge of the Central Intellectual Property and International Trade Court of Thailand, graduated with law degrees from Thailand and the London School of Economics. He is qualified as a Thai as well as English Barrister-at-Law. Judge Vichai was Executive Director of the Arbitration Office from 1990–1994. When the Central Intellectual Property and International Trade Court was founded in 1997, Judge Vichai as a founding member, brought with him the experience and expertise from ADR and the arbitration system to the new court procedure. He also teaches part-time at Chulalongkorn, Thammasat and Ramkhamhaeng graduate schools of law.

CHIBANA Izumi joined the Institute of Developing Economies, Chiba, Japan in October 2000. She is currently working as a research fellow in the Area Studies Department I. Her recent research focuses on Law and Development in the Philippines. Her publications include: "Judicial Reform in the Philippines," Ajiken World Trend, Vol.77, 2002 (in Japanese).