

ASEDP 50

STUDIES IN GOVERNANCE AND
REGULATION: THE PHILIPPINES

Edited by

Dante B. Canlas
Shigeaki Fujisaki

INSTITUTE OF DEVELOPING ECONOMIES
JAPAN EXTERNAL TRADE ORGANIZATION
TOKYO 1999

ASEDP 50

STUDIES IN GOVERNANCE AND
REGULATION: THE PHILIPPINES

Edited by

Dante B. Canlas
Shigeaki Fujisaki

INSTITUTE OF DEVELOPING ECONOMIES
JAPAN EXTERNAL TRADE ORGANIZATION
TOKYO 1999

AUTHORS

Dante B. Canlas

Professor and Director for Research
School of Economics
University of the Philippines
Diliman, Quezon City

Shigeaki Fujisaki

Visiting Research Associate
School of Economics
University of the Philippines
Diliman, Quezon City
and
Overseas Senior Research Fellow
Institute of Developing Economies
Japan External Trade Organization
Tokyo, Japan

Ma. Joy V. Abrenica

Assistant Professor
School of Economics
University of the Philippines
Diliman, Quezon City
and
Executive Director
Society for the Advancement of Technology Management in the Philippines (SATMP)
Rm. 339, U.P. School of Economics
Diliman, Quezon City

Ruperto P. Alonzo

Professor (on leave)
School of Economics
University of the Philippines
Diliman, Quezon City
and
Deputy Director-General
National Economic and Development Authority
Ortigas Center, Pasig City

Emmanuel S. de Dios

Professor and Department Chairman
School of Economics
University of the Philippines
Diliman, Quezon City

Marina Fe B. Durano
Ph.D. Candidate
School of Economics
University of the Philippines
Diliman, Quezon City

Raul V. Fabella
Professor and Dean
School of Economics
University of the Philippines
Diliman, Quezon City

Raphael Perpetuo M. Lotilla
Professor (on leave)
College of Law
University of the Philippines
Diliman, Quezon City
and
Deputy Director-General
National Economic and Development Authority
Ortigas Center, Pasig City

Steven Jon R. Pamintuan
Manager, Tariff Control & Monitoring Office
Metropolitan Waterworks and Sewerage System
Quezon City

Renato E. Reside, Jr.
Assistant Professor
School of Economics
University of the Philippines
Diliman, Quezon City

Ma. Lourdes A. Sereno
Associate Professor
College of Law
University of the Philippines
Diliman, Quezon City
and
Director
Institute for International Legal Studies
U.P. Law Center Complex
Diliman, Quezon City

Orville Jose Solon
Associate Professor
School of Economics
University of the Philippines
Diliman, Quezon City

CONTENTS

Authors	iii
Preface	v
Chapter 1: The Soft State, The Market and Governance by Raul V. Fabella	1
Introduction	1
The Genesis of the Soft State	2
Marketization and Philippine Soft State	2
Re-Engineering the State	4
Disengagement from the Market	5
Type of disengagement	5
Efficiency goals	6
The way ahead	6
Summary	7
References	8
Chapter 2: The Judiciary and Economic Policy-Making by Ma. Lourdes A. Sereno and Raphael Perpetuo M. Lotilla	9
Nature of judicial function	9
Chapter 3: Interest-Group Competition, Legislative Obstruction, and Executive Power by Emmanuel S. de Dios	28
Introduction	28
Particularism	28
Instances of "Legislative Obstruction"	30
Overlapping Mandates	33
Congressional Weakness Relative to the Executive	34
The Supply of Accomodation	38
Relations between Executive and Legislature: Model Games	40
Conclusion	43
Appendix	44
Mixed Strategy Equilibrium
References	46
Chapter 4: Channeling Resources to Local Development Concerns: Issues and Options by Ruperto P. Alonzo	48
Introduction	48
The problem defined	48

Unsettled questions	49
The study's objectives and scope of work	51
Devolution and the 1991 Local Government Code	52
Benefits from devolution	52
Administrative and regulatory functions	53
General public services	53
Public infrastructure spending	54
Examples of excellence: The Galing Pook Awards	55
Health and nutrition	55
Social services	55
The environment	55
Local public infrastructure	56
Intergovernmental Fiscal Relations: Theory And Practice	56
Models of expenditure and tax assignment	56
Intergovernmental transfers	57
Lessons from country experiences	58
Options for Channeling Resources to LGUs	62
Overview	62
Recurring themes and principles	63
The role of community participation in project development cannot be taken for granted	64
LGUs are, in principle, better implementors of local projects than NGAs, because, coming from the area, they have a closer feel of people's needs	64
Community equity contributions to project cost should be encouraged	64
Cost recovery through user charges is desirable	64
Private sector production should be favored where feasible	65
As much as possible, private financial intermediaries should be tapped for the onlending of credit by the national government to LGUs, and LGUs' relending to, or collecting charges from, communities and households	65
Policy options	65
NGAs' realignment of their expenditure programs	65
An expanded and modified Municipal Development Fund	66
Expanded GFI credit programs	69
Direct ODA loans to LGUs	70
An expanded and enhanced Local Government Empowerment Fund	70
Suggested features common to all options	71
The loan-grant-equity mix	71
Rationing procedures for excess demand	72
Project development guidelines	72
A note on the IRA formula	73
The policy options and policy actions	74
References	75
Chapter 5: Banking Risks, Financial Crises, and Bank Regulation in the Philippines by Dante B. Canlas	77
Introduction	77
Banks and Financially Intermediated Markets: A Framework	80

Bank runs	82
Bank risk taking and financial innovations	84
Central Banking and Balance of Payments Crises	85
Bank Failures and Financial Crises in the Philippines	88
Bank Regulation	89
Central banking	89
General Banking	91
Commercial banks	91
Thrift banks	91
Government-owned banks	92
Regulatory Reforms and New Directions	93
Regulatory reforms	93
Raising bank capital	93
Redefinition of past-due loans and other adjustments	94
Higher minimum reserve requirements	95
New directions	95
References	97

Chapter 6: Options For Philippine Bond Market Reform
by Renato E. Reside, Jr. 99

Introduction	99
The Philippine Bond Market.....	99
The money market and capital market in the Philippines	99
Public money market and capital market securities	100
The primary and secondary market for public securities	103
Private money market and capital market instruments	103
The primary and secondary market for private securities	111
Regulatory structure of the fixed income securities market	112
Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC)	112
Bureau of the Treasury (BTr)	112
Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP)	112
Credit rating agency	113
Clearing and settlement	114
Underwriters and dealers/brokers	115
Recent developments in securities markets.....	116
Options for Future Reforms to the Philippine Bond Market	117
Prior to strengthening regulations governing financial markets and establishing competitive market mechanisms for bond market development, there is a more fundamental need to strengthen corporate governance.....	120
The bond market is shallow and lacks liquidity (i.e., there are very few investors, and very few classes and types of securities). The market is dominated by government securities and there is a lack of variety in private bond issues	122
The absence of additional financial sector infrastructure that encourages bond market development	123
Absence of a formal trading venue for bonds and other fixed-income securities	124
Absence of proper benchmark reference mechanism for pricing credit	126
Need for enhanced credit rating capacity	126

Lack of facilities for financing inventories of securities	127
Complicated system of taxation of financial transactions and intermediaries	127
Conclusion and Recommendations for Going Forward	128
Chapter 7: The Role of Institutions in the Services Sector by Marina Fe B. Durano	131
Introduction	131
Institutions and the Division of Labor	131
Information Asymmetry and Contracting in the Services Sector	133
Trade in Services: International Conflicts	137
Trade in Services: Internal Conflicts	140
Conclusions	145
References	149
Chapter 8: Opportunities and Risks in the Privatization-Regulation of the Metropolitan Water and Sewerage System by Orville Solon and Steven John Pamintuan	151
Background	151
Bidding-out Water Concessions	152
Picking the Winners	154
Dive Bidders and the Regulatory Infrastructure	156
Incentives governing the concessionaires	157
Preserving the Gains from Privatization	159
Preserving the spirit of the bidding process – the 1998 EPA	160
A Strategy for Introducing Regulatory Reforms	164
References	165
Chapter 9: Technological Convergence and Competition: The Telecommunications Industry by Ma. Joy V. Abrenica	166
Introduction	166
Managing the Transition	168
Regulatory Challenges	170
The State of Philippine Telecommunications Sector	172
Breaking Grounds for Technological Convergence	179
Regulatory Signposts	183
References	184
Chapter 10: Study on Governance and Regulation: A Summary by Shigeaki Fujisaki	186
The Role of the State	186
A Summary of the Discussions	187
References	189

Institute of Developing Economies, Japan External Trade Organization
42 Ichigaya-Hommura-cho, Shinjuku-ku, Tokyo 162-8442
All rights reserved. Published 1999
Printed in the Philippines

ISBN4-258-55050-7 C3033