

Preface

This is the thirteenth volume, released in Malaysia, in a series of Joint Study Projects for Economic Development Policies in ASEAN and Neighbouring countries initiated in 1987 by the Institute of Developing Economies (IDE) in Tokyo.

In 1989 a research team, based in Kuala Lumpur, started the Malaysian joint project in line with others in Thailand, the Philippines and Indonesia and in 1990 published the ninth volume in the series "Malaysian Economy: Policy and Structural Change" (edited by Hisashi Yokoyama). This was translated into Japanese and was also published in Tokyo. This second specifically Malaysian volume will also be published in Japanese.

Many people have contributed to the production of this book. Special thanks should go to the academic and administrative staff from the Institute of Advanced Studies at the University of Malaya (UM) who, during the last two years, have offered their help and support in allowing me to conduct this project. Their generous help and productive and enjoyable discussions over coffee encouraged me to proceed with this project. I would also like to express my gratitude to two students from UM's Faculty of Economics and Administration ; Miss Kwek Kian Teng and Miss Goy Siew Ching for their invaluable help in suggesting corrections and identifying ambiguities in each chapter of this book. I am also very grateful to Ms Patricia Thorlby who suggested some corrections. Lastly many thanks to the staff of the Research and Planning Department and the International Exchanges Department of IDE who took on the burden of most of the administrative work in Tokyo and encouraged me to proceed with this project.
