

ASEDP NO. 2

NATIONAL DEVELOPMENT POLICIES AND THE BUSINESS SECTOR IN THE PHILIPPINES

by

Aiichirō Ishii
Edilberto de Jesus
Kenji Koike
Leoncio D. Miralao, Jr.
Manuel F. Montes
Gerardo Sanvictores

CONTENTS

	Page
Preface	iii
Introduction	1
The Business Sector and Development Policy	23
1. Introduction	23
1.1. Research Findings	24
1.2. Brief Description of Philippine Economic Structure	29
1.3. Brief Description of Philippine Political System	34
2. Past Record of Development Planning	37
2.1. Evolution of Planning Agencies	41
2.2. Evolution of Intentions and Strategies	45
3. Prominent Business Groups in the Philippines	48
3.1. In the Quirino Presidency	51
3.2. In the Magsaysay Presidency	51
3.3. In the Garcia Presidency	53
3.4. In the Macapagal Presidency	53
3.5. In the Marcos Presidency (1965-72)	54
3.6. In the Marcos Presidency (1972-86)	55
3.7. In the Aquino Presidency	58
4. Analysis of Business Groups	60
4.1. Source of Capital	60
4.2. Principal Business Interests in Economic Policy	61
5. Analysis of Relation between Business Interests and Planning	68
5.1. Participation in Terms of Key Personnel	68
5.2. Direct Participation and Consultation with Business Groups	70
6. Evaluation of Business Influence on Development Policy	71
6.1. Effectiveness of Business Influence	71
6.2. Externalities on Business Influence on Overall Prospects and Performance	72
Footnotes	75

Philippine National Development Planning	78
1. Introduction	78
2. A Brief Situationer on the Philippines	81
3. Economic Planning in the Philippines	87
3.1. 1946 to 1959	91
3.2. 1960s	93
3.3. Marcos Regime and Martial Law Period	96
3.4. President Aquino's Administration	103
4. Respondents' Views on Philippine Economic Planning	105
4.1. Government Personnel	106
4.2. Business Group	115
4.3. Cause Oriented/Nationalist Groups	121
5. Assessment of Philippine Economic Planning	125
References	127
 Economic Development Policies and Japanese Investments in the Philippines	 128
1. Introduction	131
1.1. Economic Development Policies	132
1.2. Investment Policies	137
2. Motivations for Japanese Oversease Investments	145
2.1. Overview of Japanese Overseas Investments	145
2.2. Motivations for Japanese Overseas Investment	148
2.3. Factors Considered in Assessing the Investment Climate of a Country	152
3. History of Japanese Investments in the Philippines	155
3.1. Japanese Investments in the Philippines 1968 to 1987	163
3.2. Equity Investments	164
3.3. Loans	184
4. Summary	193
References	201
Annex	203

Dismantling Crony Capitalism under the Aquino Government	206
1. Introduction	206
2. The Collapse of Cronyism Policies	207
3. The Presidential Commission on Good Government and its Policies	211
4. New Administration = PCGG and Enterprise Groups	218
4.1. Reorganization and the Comeback of the Lopez Family	219
4.2. First Manila Management Corp.	227
4.3. Lucio Tan and his Group of Companies	229
4.4. Compromise Settlement	234
5. Privatization Policy and Enterprises	238
5.1. Assets Privatization Trust	238
5.2. Privatization of Large Public Corporation	245
6. Conclusion	252
Footnotes	258

Activities of Small and Medium-Scale Industries that have been Established in the Philippines in Terms of Japanese Commitment	260
1. Outline of Small and Medium-Scale Industries in the Philippines	262
1.1. Definition of Small and Medium- Scale Industries in Japan	263
1.2. Review of Roles and Activities of Statutory Organization Concerning Small and Medium-Scale Industries in the Philippines	263
1.3. Philippine Organization	267
2. Review of Activities of Some Selected Companies in the Philippines	270
2.1. Phil-Japan Marble Venture Corp.	270
2.2. Atlantic Gulf and Pacific Company of Manila, Inc.	275
2.3. Philippine Development and Industrial Corp.	279
2.4. The Zenitaka Corp.	281

3.	Other Companies with Experience in Philippine Construction Project	285
3.1.	Rio Tuba Nickel Mine Development Project	285
3.2.	Bohol Limestone Development Project	285
3.3.	The Institute of Tropical Medicine	286
3.4.	The SEAMO Regional Center for Educational Innovation and Technology	286
4.	Major Problems in Overseas Investment on Small and Medium-Scale Industries to the Philippines	287
4.1.	Management	287
4.2.	Public and Private Sector Investment	288
4.3.	Government Investment Policy and Capital Structure	289
4.4.	Localization of Managerial Staff	289
4.5.	Technology Transfer	290
4.6.	Job-Hopping	291
4.7.	Training	291
5.	Setting of Priorities and Possible Areas of Industrial Activities in the Philippines	292
6.	Conclusions and Recommendations	293
6.1.	Development of Supporting and Servicing Industries	295
6.2.	Establishment of Steering Committee in Japan	296
6.3.	Approach to Overseas Economic Cooperation Fund	297
	References	299
	Annex	300

TABLES

	Page
BOI-Approved Equity Investments 1968 to 1987 . . .	166
Analysis of Japanese Investments in BOI-Registered Enterprises 1968 to 1987	169
Japanese Capital Affiliated Domestic Corporations and Wholly-Owned Japanese Corporations as of 1981	172
Japanese Capital Affiliated Domestic Corporations and Wholly-Owned Japanese Corporations as of 1986	173
Japanese Investments per Sector 1978 to 1987 . . .	175
Overseas Economic Cooperation Fund Loans to the Philippines 1971 to 1985	187
OECF Project Loans to the Philippines 1971 to 1983	188
Subsidiaries and Affiliates of FPHC (1986) . . .	220

FIGURES

	Page
Figure 1	167
Figure 2	168

NATIONAL DEVELOPMENT POLICIES AND THE BUSINESS SECTOR IN THE PHILIPPINES

by

Aiichiro Ishii
Edilberto de Jesus
Kenji Koike
Leoncio D. Miralao, Jr.
Manuel F. Montes
Gerardo Sanvictores

圖書資料部

別置圖書